

MEADOWLARK ORGANICS

*Farmerowned whole grains and stoneground flour
Ridgeway, WI*

Our Mission

We are farmers committed to cultivating a regenerative ecosystem by growing local food, improving the health and resilience of our soils, protecting the safety of our water, and investing in the vitality of our rural community.

Craigslist, July 1st, 2015

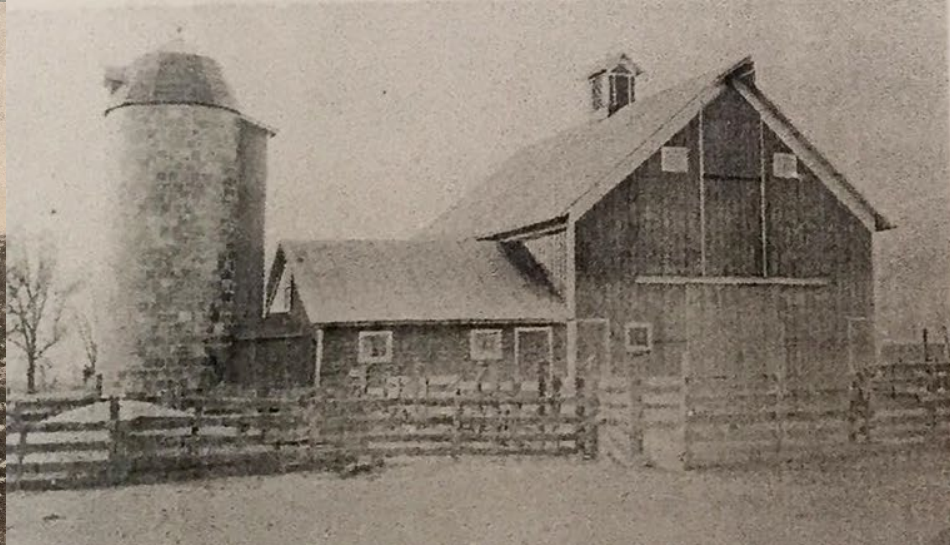

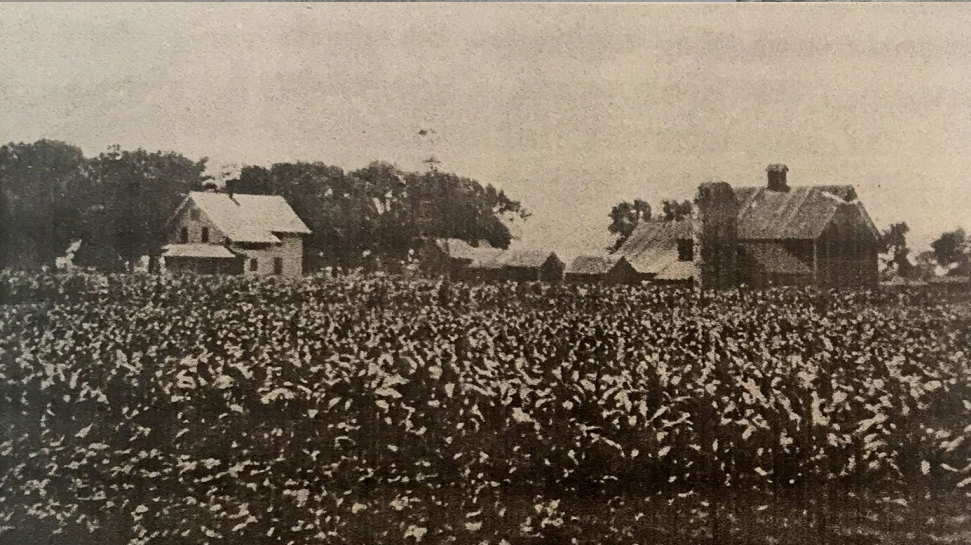

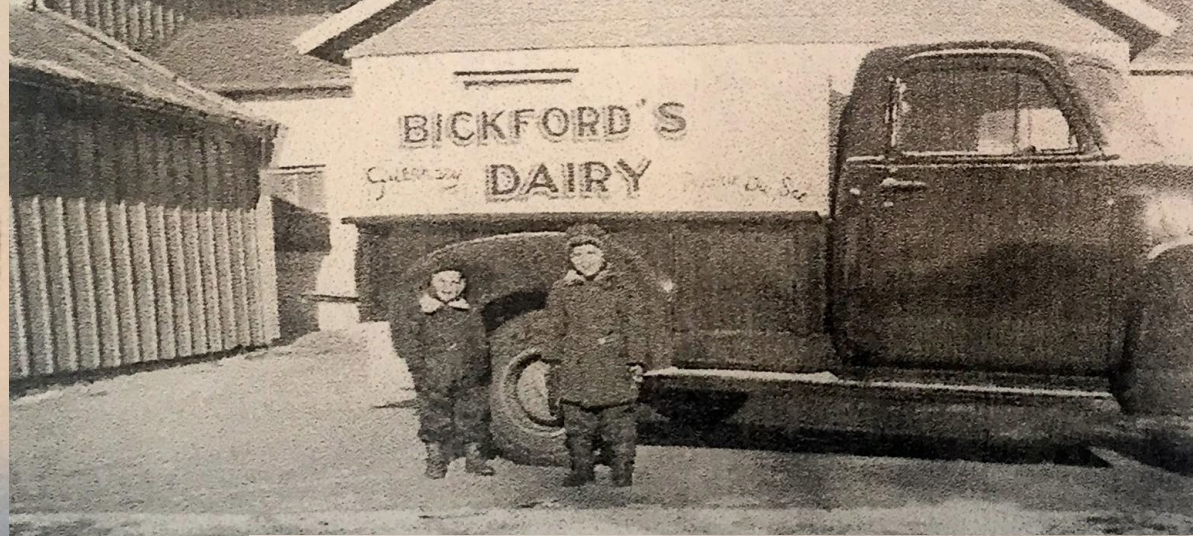

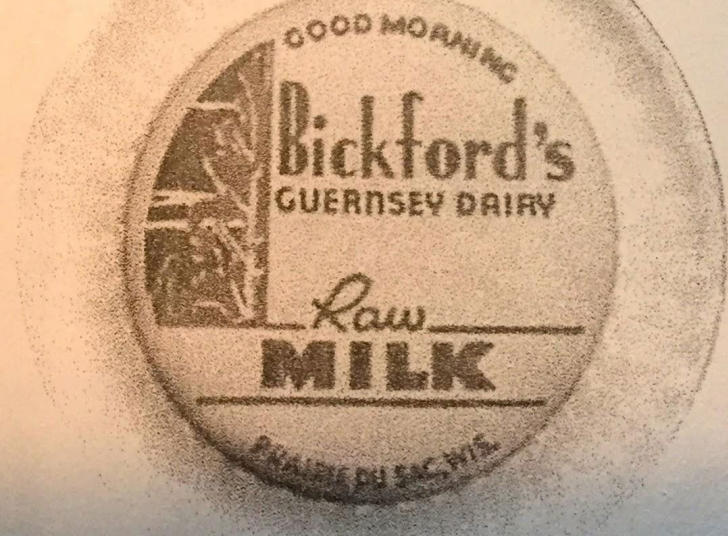

I am seeking a forward-thinking individual or couple to join my 950 acre organic farming operation to assist in all facets of growing feed crops and to assist in marketing of corn, soybeans, small grains and hay.

A general background in organic practices is preferred and an ability to grasp a systems approach to management is needed. You should be knowledgeable in soil building and weed management, and general crop growing skills. Organic production requires many pieces of equipment and a mechanical aptitude is necessary. Unique marketing ideas are welcome.

Ethics and trust are a cornerstone of organic farming and are important to my operation. I want to share my 40 years of farm experience with someone who is willing to work to improve my farm. This position could evolve into a partnership or other long range business association.

Housing is available with a barn that could be used for horses or other animals. Compensation and other details will be mutually negotiated with the successful applicant. Send resume, work history, and personal message why you want to belong to the organic community.

MEADOWLARK
ORGANICS